We think this better level of service is good for the student. In addition, your contact information allows us to inform you of our latest product announcements, updates, offers, and events.

What Information Do We Collect?

When you use our APP, you may provide us with three types of information:

1. Explicit information

In order to create a free Chinesee account, and customize your profile, you can choose to disclose personal information (such as email address, city of residence, hobbies, etc). You can access and edit this information whenever you like.

2. Implicit information

When you use Chinesee, we collect usage data (how many times you login, which lessons you study, how long you spend on them, etc). (Implicit information is only analyzed in aggregate).

3. Exchange information

We also store information that you have exchanged with any of the Chinesee staff (teachers, sales, and the support team).

These three types of information help us determine what new information is most useful to you, and which parts of our APP and services are of most interest to you.
